ATTORNEY GENERAL'S BRIEF ON THE MERITS OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL CLAIMS

Pursuant to the Court's scheduling order of October 12, 2011, Attorney General E. Scott Pruitt files the following brief stating his position on the merits of the Plaintiff School Districts' constitutional claims. More specifically, the Attorney General supports the Defendant Parents' Motion for Summary Judgment, and requests the Court grant summary judgment in the Defendant Parents' favor on all claims.¹

Introduction

The Oklahoma Supreme Court once took judicial notice of "the immeasurable social, psychological and economic value of an education in contemporary society."² If an education is so valuable in general, an education provided to a child with a disability is even more so. These children have special and unique needs, and they deserve an education uniquely tailored to those needs. When they receive such an education, both they and the State of Oklahoma benefit.

¹ For simplicity's sake, this brief will refer to the plaintiffs, Independent School District No. 5 of Tulsa County, Oklahoma, a/k/a Jenks Public Schools and Independent School District No. 9 of Tulsa County, Oklahoma, a/k/a Union Public Schools, as "the Plaintiff School Districts", and will refer to the defendants, Russell Spry, Stephanie Spry, Tim Tylicki, Kimberly Tylicki, Tim Fisher, Kristin Fisher, Stephanie Hipskind, Jerry Sneed, and Shanna Sneed, as "the Defendant Parents".

² Indep. Sch. Dist. No. 8 v. Swanson, 1976 OK 71, ¶ 25, 553 P.2d 496, 501.

The Lindsey Nicole Henry Scholarships for Students with Disabilities Program Act (“the Act”) was signed into law by Governor Brad Henry in 2010, in order to give parents of children with disabilities who currently attend a public school the financial freedom to send their children to certain approved private institutions if the parents believe the private institution might better serve their children’s special educational needs. The Act is the State of Oklahoma’s recognition that those best situated to decide what is best for a child with disabilities are the child’s parents, and that it as a state can best serve the educational needs of such children by giving the parents the financial freedom to make those decisions.

There are five primary reasons why the Court should reject the Plaintiff School Districts’ facial challenge to the Act:

1. the State has the discretion to provide for the education of children with disabilities through scholarships that can be used at institutions of the parents’ choice, even if some of those institutions happen to have some religious affiliation;
2. the Plaintiff School Districts admit that three of the five sets of Defendant Parents apply their scholarship monies towards tuition at a non-sectarian school; they have thus utterly failed to prove their claim that the scholarship monies are used for sectarian purposes in every instance.
3. the State is currently maintaining a system of public schools as required by the state constitution—the Act does nothing to change that;
4. the State receives valuable consideration for the scholarship monies it provides under the Act, so those monies are not constitutionally-prohibited gifts;
5. the Act does not treat similarly-situated children differently, but even if it did, the Plaintiff School Districts lack standing to vicariously assert equal protection claims on behalf of individual students;

Summary of the Argument

The School Districts have over pled their case. First, they claim that the Act violates the Oklahoma Constitution's prohibition against use of public money for sectarian purposes (Art. II, Sec. 5). Second, they claim that the Act violates the Oklahoma Constitution's requirement that the State establish and maintain a system of public schools (Art. I, Sec. 5, and Art. XIII, Sec. 1). Third, they claim that the Act violates the Oklahoma Constitution's prohibition on public funds being gifted or used for a non-public purpose (Art. X, Secs. 14 and 15). Lastly, they claim that the Act violates the equal protection component of the Oklahoma Constitution's Due Process Clause (Art. II, Sec. 7).

Count One fails as a matter of law. Art. II, Sec. 5's prohibition is not nearly as absolute as the Plaintiff School Districts claim. There are numerous examples of state funds being spent at religious institutions, and so long as the state funds are used for a public purpose and the State receives adequate consideration for the funds provided, the expenditures are generally viewed as permissible. Here, the public purposes underlying the education of Oklahoma children with disabilities are obvious, and the State receives valuable consideration for the scholarship monies. Thus, the Act does not violate Art. II, Sec 5 in any instance, but just as importantly, it does not violate Art. II, Sec. 5 in every instance, which is what the Plaintiff School Districts must prove to win their facial challenge. In fact, the Plaintiff School Districts admit in their statement of undisputed facts that three of the five sets of Defendant Parents use their scholarship monies at non-religious private schools.

The remaining counts fail under even the standard applied to motions to dismiss. First, the Plaintiff School Districts ignore the fact that the Legislature does not look to the Oklahoma Constitution to find out what it can do. Rather the Legislature looks to the Oklahoma Constitution only to find out what it is prohibited from doing, and prohibitions are narrowly construed. Art. I, Sec. 5, and Art. XIII, Sec. 1 are mandatory provisions, not prohibitory provisions. They require the State to maintain a system of free public schools, but they do not prevent the State from taking other actions relating to the education of Oklahoma children. Thus, Count Two fails.

Count Three fails as well. Of course educating Oklahoma children with disabilities is a public purpose, and paying for that education cannot be a “gift” when the child would otherwise be educated by the School Districts and when the scholarship monies “buys” the State regulatory control over private schools that it otherwise would not have. Because the State is receiving adequate consideration for the scholarship monies, the scholarship monies are not “gifts” in any sense of the word—and certainly not any more so than are the numerous state-funded scholarships awarded to graduating seniors each year.

Count Four is also easily disposed. Art. II, Sec. 7 of the Oklahoma Constitution creates an individual right that the Oklahoma Supreme Court has explicitly held cannot be vicariously asserted on behalf of Oklahoma students. As a result, the school districts lack standing to bring the claim. Even if they did, the Act does not treat similarly-situated children differently, and even if it did, the State certainly has a rational basis for doing so.

Arguments and Authorities

I. Count One of the Petition fails because the Plaintiff School Districts have failed to establish that no set of circumstances exist under which the Act does not violate Art. II, Sec. 5.

Because the Plaintiff School Districts have brought a facial challenge to the constitutionality of a state statute, they have an extraordinarily high burden of proof. In fact, they have placed on themselves the highest of litigational burdens. Davis v. Fieker, 1997 OK 156 ¶ 35, 952 P.2d 505, 514 (“A facial challenge to a Legislative Act is, of course, the most difficult challenge to mount successfully, since the challenger must establish that no set of circumstances exists under which the Act would be valid."); quoting United States v. Salerno, 481 U.S. 739, 745. Quite frankly, the playing field is, as a matter of law, severely tilted in the Defendant Parents' favor. Fent v. Okla. Capitol Improvement Authority, 1999 OK 64 ¶ 3, 984 P.2d 200, 204 ("[E]very presumption is to be indulged in favor of the constitutionality of a statute"); Schmitt v. Hunt, 1960 OK 257 ¶ 6, 359 P.2d 198 (A legislative act must be upheld unless "its unconstitutionality is shown beyond a reasonable doubt."); Eastern Oklahoma Bldg. & Const. Trades Council v. Pitts, 2003 OK 113 ¶ 14, 82 P.3d 1008, 1014 ("[Courts] are obliged to preserve the constitutionality of enactments where possible, not overturn them.").

The Plaintiff School Districts cannot meet this burden of proof as to any count in their petition, but they certainly cannot meet it as to Count One because they admit in their statement of facts that three of the five sets of Defendant Parents apply their scholarship monies towards tuition at a non-religious private school. See Pls.' Mot. at 8-10. Thus, they cannot prevail on their claim that in every instance, the Act provides public funds to sectarian institutions. Their facial challenge accordingly fails.

A. The scholarship monies provided under the Act are no different than the numerous other acceptable ways in which the State of Oklahoma provides the State funds to religious institutions.

But even were this an as-applied challenge to the Act, as applied to the two sets of Defendant Parents who apply their scholarship monies towards tuition at religious schools, the Act does not violate Art. II, Sec. 5 because the scholarship monies serve a public purpose and the State receives valuable consideration for those monies.

The Plaintiff School Districts incorrectly describe Art. II, Sec. 5 as an absolute prohibition on the use of state money at religious institutions. Reality is hardly so black and white. In fact, there are numerous ways in which state funds benefit religious institutions and organizations. For example:

- Through SoonerCare (Oklahoma's Medicaid program), the State of Oklahoma spent $1.7 billion in 2011 providing health benefit packages to qualifying Oklahomans. Those 1.7 billion SoonerCare dollars are spent at authorized providers throughout the state—a host of which are religiously-affiliated. See SoonerCare provider list, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. (listing, for example, Mercy Hospital, a hospital whose mission “is rooted in the mission of Jesus and the healing ministry of the church[.]” See <http://www.mercyok.net/mhc/ourministry/default.asp>, a hardcopy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2).
- Through various state-funded scholarship programs administered by the State Regents for Higher Education, college scholarships are awarded to Oklahoma students to be applied at either public or private colleges and universities—many of which are religious institutions. See http://www.okcollegestart.org/Financial_Aid/Types_of_Aid/Scholarships/State_Scholarship_Programs/_default.aspx, a hardcopy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 3.
- Through the Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives, state funds administered by the Department of Human Services are spent in support of a variety of religious institutions. See <http://www.faithlinksok.org/Priorities.htm>, a hardcopy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 4; see also 2008 OK AG 10.

The Plaintiff School Districts cite several old attorney general opinions (the most recent being over three decades old) in support of their hard-line reading of Art. II, Sec. 5. Not surprisingly they ignore the most recent, and most on-point, attorney general opinion analyzing Art. II, Sec. 5. In 2008, the Attorney General was asked to opine on the constitutionality of the Transformational Justice Act, 2007 Okla. Sess. Laws ch. 274, §§ 1 - 3, which authorized public funds to be used by the Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives to provide support to faith-based groups for specified services. 2008 OK AG 10. The Attorney General concluded that the statute was facially sound, reasoning as follows:

Although the language of Article II, Section 5 of Oklahoma's Constitution would appear to prohibit payment of public funds to a sectarian institution, such is not the case. The Oklahoma Supreme Court has found payments to a sectarian institution for a public purpose and for adequate consideration does not violate Article II, Section 5. See, e.g., Murrow Indian Orphans Home v. Childers, 171 P.2d 600, 603 (Okla. 1946).

In Sharp v. City of Guthrie, 152 P. 403 (Okla. 1915), the court upheld a conveyance of property to a sectarian institution that was to be used as a university. Id. at 408. The court said the conveyance was for a public purpose and the value of the university to the city and the obligations and responsibilities assumed by the institution were sufficient consideration to uphold the conveyance. Id. The court said:

The city having the right to sell the property, and the consideration being adequate, it would make no difference whether the grantee be a sectarian institution or not, for a sale upon a sufficient consideration would not be within the prohibition of section 5, art. 2, of the Constitution.

Id.

In Children's Home and Welfare Association v. Childers, 171 P.2d 613 (Okla. 1946), decided the same day as Murrow Indian Orphans Home, the Oklahoma Supreme Court found payments to sectarian institutions did not violate Section 5 of Article II of Oklahoma's Constitution. Id. at 614. The payments to residential children's homes for the care of orphan, dependent children, pursuant to contracts with the State Board of Affairs did not violate Article II, Section 5 of Oklahoma's Constitution because the payments were for a public purpose and the State received adequate consideration for payments to the institution in the form of the care of needy children, which the State had a duty to provide. Murrow Indian Orphans Home, 171 P.2d at 603.

The analysis of a state-aid program under Article II, Section 5 is virtually identical to the analysis utilized by the courts in determining the constitutionality of a state-aid program under Article X, Sections 14(A) and 15 of the Oklahoma Constitution. A state-aid program will survive a constitutional challenge if state aid is for a public purpose and the State receives adequate consideration for the aid provided. We have found the Act's provision for grants to volunteer organizations, including faith-based organizations, to provide health, educational or vocational training, and programs to assist reintegration of inmates does not, on its face, violate Article X, Sections 14(A) and 15 of the Oklahoma Constitution. Therefore, the Act's provision for grants does not on its face violate Article II, Section 5 of the Constitution.

Id.

The Attorney General's opinion describes the analysis exactly correctly. The question is thus whether providing scholarships to Oklahoma school children with disabilities serves a public purpose, and whether the State receives adequate consideration for the scholarship monies.

B. The scholarship monies provided under the Act serve the very public purpose of educating Oklahoma school children with disabilities.

The expenditure of public funds at a private entity requires accomplishment of a public purpose with appropriate controls over activities of the private entity receiving payment. Way v. Grand Lake Ass'n, 1981 OK 70 ¶ 40, 635 P.2d 1010, 1018. Here, there is no doubt that the education of Oklahoma children with disabilities is a public purpose, and the Act contains more than adequate controls over the activities of the schools receiving the scholarship monies. See 70 O.S. § 13-101.2(H)(setting forth detailed criteria that a school must meet in order to be approved under the Act, and giving the State Department of Education oversight over such schools.). The public purpose analysis found at pages 6-8 of the brief in support of Defendant Parents' Motion for Summary Judgment reaches the same conclusion, and the Attorney General agrees with that thoughtful analysis in whole.

C. The State of Oklahoma receives valuable consideration in exchange for the scholarship monies.

"Consideration may be measured by benefit to one party or by forbearance, detriment, loss or responsibility assumed by the other party." Burkhardt v. City of Enid, 1989 OK 45 ¶ 13, 771 P.2d 608, 611. So where the State receives property or services in return for payment of its money, it is not a prohibited "gift." Childrens Home & Welfare Ass'n v. Childers, 1946 OK 180 ¶ 5, 171 P.2d 613, 614.

Here, a disabled child is only eligible to receive scholarship monies under the Act if, "[t]he student has spent the prior school year in attendance at a public school in this state." 70 O.S. § 13-101.2(B)(1). So under the Act, any child who receives a scholarship is a child that the State is currently responsible for educating. Any scholarship monies paid under the Act are thus paid in exchange for the State being relieved of its obligation to provide an education for that child. That is adequate consideration. The scholarship monies thus cannot be considered a "gift" in any sense of the word.

Additionally, as more fully explained in the Defendant Parents' brief at pages 8-11, the State of Oklahoma receives both greater certainty in education costs for each child and some regulatory control over the private school that it otherwise would not have. Thus, as the Defendant Parents' brief correctly concludes, the State receives more than adequate consideration.

II. Count Two should be dismissed because nothing in the Act impairs the State's maintenance of a system of free public schools.

Art. I, Sec. 5, and Art. XIII, Sec. 1 are commands to the Legislature, not limitations on the Legislature's power. School Dist. No. 62 Craig County v. School Dist. No. 17 Craig County, 1930 OK 112, 287 P. 1035. Unlike the United States Constitution, which vests Congress with enumerated powers, under Oklahoma's Constitution "we do not look to the Constitution to determine whether the Legislature is authorized to do an act but rather to see whether it is prohibited." Draper v. State, 1980 OK 117 ¶ 10, 621 P.2d 1142, 1146.

Secondly, restrictions and limitations upon the Legislature's power are to be "construed strictly." Id. Third, if there is any doubt as to the Legislature's power to act in any given situation, the doubt is to be resolved in favor of the validity of the action taken by the Legislature. See id.

Fourth, "[i]t is only where an act of the Legislature is clearly, palpably, and plainly inconsistent with the terms and provisions of the Constitution that the courts will interfere and declare such act invalid and void." Adwon v. Oklahoma Retail Grocers Ass'n, 1951 OK 43 ¶ 13, 228 P.2d 376, 379 (quotation omitted).

Accordingly, no Oklahoma court has ever construed Art. I, Sec. 5, and Art. XIII, Sec. 1 as prohibiting the Legislature from taking actions so long as the Legislature is satisfying its constitutional duty of maintaining a system of free public schools.

Here, the Plaintiff School Districts make no allegation that the Legislature has failed to maintain a system of free public schools. And how could they? The very fact that the School Districts exist, and are here suing these parents, proves that the Legislature has fulfilled its constitutional duty as to them. Because the School Districts do not, and cannot, claim that the Act has caused the Legislature to abrogate its duty to maintain a system of public schools, Count Two of the Petition fails.

III. Count Three fails because the State receives adequate consideration in exchange for the scholarship monies, which means they are not "gifts."

Determining whether a legislative act violates Sec. 15, Art. X's prohibition of "gifts" turns on the presence of adequate consideration. Hawks v. Bland, 1932 OK 101 ¶ 22, 9 P.2d 720, 722 ("A gift within the meaning of this section is a gratuitous transfer of the property of the state voluntarily and without consideration."). As explained above, the State of Oklahoma receives adequate consideration in exchange for the scholarship monies granted under the Act. Thus, count Three fails.

IV. Count Four fails because the Plaintiff School Districts lack standing to vicariously assert alleged violations of an individual right held by Oklahoma students.

The school districts lack standing to assert equal protection claims on behalf of their students—the Oklahoma Supreme Court has held as much in at least one recent case.

In Oklahoma Education Ass’n. v. State, 2007 OK 30, 158 P.3d 1058, the Oklahoma Education Association (the OEA) and several school districts (including Jenks) sued the State of Oklahoma, claiming that the Oklahoma Legislature’s had failed to adequately fund public education in violation of Oklahoma students’ equal protection rights (amongst other claims). The Oklahoma Supreme Court flatly rejected the OEA’s and school districts’ attempt to assert a claim based on the equal protection rights of Oklahoma students:

The plaintiffs assert injury to the rights of Oklahoma's students. The OEA has not established that any of its members are Oklahoma students. Although some of the members of the OEA may be parents of Oklahoma students, this is insufficient to establish the OEA's standing to assert injury to the students' rights. The OEA has failed to meet its burden to show that any of its members have a right of their own to assert injury to the rights of Oklahoma's students. As the OEA's members cannot vicariously assert injury to the constitutional rights of Oklahoma's students, neither can the OEA...[likewise] [t]he plaintiff school districts have failed to present us with any authority to show that they have standing to assert the violation of the constitutional rights of students generally across this state.

Id. at ¶ 12, 14, 1064 (emphasis added).

Just as in that case, the school districts here are attempting to vicariously assert injury to the constitutional rights of Oklahoma students. As a result, the schools districts lack standing to assert claims based on those rights.³

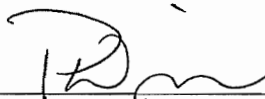

Additionally, even if the Plaintiff School Districts had standing to vicariously assert an equal protection claim, the Act does not treat similarly-situated children differently. The children who are eligible for a scholarship under the Act (those with an Individualized Education Plan who also meet the other criteria) are quite obviously differently situated from other those children are not eligible for an Individualized Education Plan. The very reason why the Congress passed the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 U.S.C. §§ 1400 et seq. with its Individual Education Plans is that children eligible for such plans are differently situated than those on accommodation plans under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C. § 794. If Congress is not guilty of an equal protection violation for distinguishing between children with disabilities in its two pieces of legislation, the Oklahoma Legislature certainly cannot be for relying on that classification in its Act.

Lastly, even if the Act treated similarly-situated children differently, the State of Oklahoma certainly has a rational basis for doing so—and that is all that is required for the Act to survive an equal protection challenge. The Defendant Parents’ brief at pages 16-17 describes the various bases on which the Legislature could have relied. Each of those bases is rational, non-invidious, related to the State’s purpose of educating children, and therefore satisfactory. Remember, all it takes is one. The Act thus clearly survives rational basis review.

³*Parens patriae* standing cannot generally be asserted by a state to challenge the action of the federal government, the notion being that the federal government is just as much a “parent” of the citizens as is the State. See Massachusetts v. Mellon, 262 U.S. 447 (1923). Similar logic would apply to school district attempting to challenge actions taken by the State. Such a challenge must be brought by the affected citizen, not an inferior governmental entity.

Conclusion

For these reasons, the Court should affirm the State of Oklahoma's ability to provide scholarship monies to Oklahoma children with disabilities. The Plaintiff School Districts' motion for summary judgment should be denied in whole, and the Defendant Parents' motion for summary judgment should be granted in whole.

Our Ministry

We are called to be Mercy

"We make a difference by touching the lives of those we serve with compassion and exceptional service."

A distinguishing characteristic of Mercy Health Center is its emphasis on healthcare as a ministry of the Sisters of Mercy, long known for their spirit of compassion and hospitality for all.

That ministry has grown out of the devotion of Catherine McAuley, foundress of the Sisters of Mercy, and displays itself in our heritage, our pastoral care services, our commitment as co-workers and our ministry in the community.

Our Mission:

Mercy Health Center is rooted in the mission of Jesus and the healing ministry of the church, being faithful to Catherine McAuley's service tradition.

This tradition is marked by the values of justice, excellence, stewardship and respect for the dignity of each person.

Mercy Health Center implements and advocates for innovative health and social services to improve the health and quality of life of communities served, with particular concern for people who are economically poor.

In serving others we make a difference by touching their lives with compassion and exceptional Mercy Service.

About This Site

OKcollegestart.org is the state's official website that provides information about higher education in Oklahoma for students, counselors, and parents. It is designed to be the most comprehensive and current source for college planning for Oklahoma students, beginning as early as middle school. It has been developed by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education in collaboration with the Oklahoma Guaranteed Student Loan Program and Oklahoma colleges and universities.

OKcollegestart.org includes the following features:

- Explore Colleges and Careers
 - Discover the colleges and universities in the state.
 - Determine the careers that best match your skills and interests.
 - Match schools with your career interests.
- Plan and Pay for College
 - See which high school classes are needed to meet admission requirements.
 - Learn about ways to pay for college.
 - Apply online for Oklahoma's Promise — OHLAP.
 - Create a personal portfolio to track your college planning.
- Apply to College
 - Gather information about the admission requirements at all Oklahoma colleges and universities.
 - Apply online to most of the colleges and universities in Oklahoma.

The OKcollegestart.org site is operated and maintained by Xap Corporation, based in Culver City, CA. If you have questions or comments about this site, please feel free to contact us.

Priorities:

The OFBCI has selected several areas of significant need to promote intentional involvement by faith and community organizations. OFBCI's priority areas include:

Emergency Preparedness. Through strategic partnerships, foster awareness within faith congregations and community groups about potential hazards and encourage the development of family, organizational and community emergency plans. Potential disasters in Oklahoma range from severe weather (thunderstorms, tornadoes and floods) to hazardous materials incidents and terrorist attacks. View OFBCI's Resource and Volunteer Opportunities list for more information. The Oklahoma Office of Homeland Security hosts www.reddirtready.com to provide timely information.

Facilitation. Promote networking opportunities, engage with event specific activities and provide support and/or administrative systems with projects that align with our mission.

Foster Care. Inform, motivate and enlist the faith community in addressing the many needs and issues facing foster care children and families in Oklahoma. To view a list of ministries and organizations across the state engaged in foster care ministry or providing services visit www.111project.org/resources.

Health. Respond to a variety of health issues for the overall well being of Oklahomans including: Food and Nutrition, Free Medical Clinics, Health Literacy and Substance Abuse. This includes collaborations with four state agencies, i.e., Oklahoma Department of Education, Oklahoma Department of Human Services, Oklahoma State Department of Health and the Oklahoma Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services. See the attached list for information on various health-related programs through these agencies.

Prisoner Reentry. In cooperation with the Oklahoma Department of Corrections, assist in the coordination of reentry services through participation in the Oklahoma Partnership for Successful Reentry, Inc., and provision of educational and networking forums through Prisoner Reentry Initiatives.

History and Staff:

Background

Government's emphasis on faith-based initiatives largely began when the Welfare Reform Act of '96 was passed. This legislation revolutionized the welfare system of America and contained the Charitable Choice provision. It outlined the terms whereby the government could purchase services from faith-based organizations and clarified church/state issues.

New Opportunities for the Faith Community

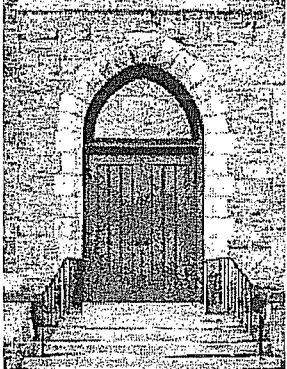

The Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives (OFBCI) was established in July 2000 to encourage faith-based initiatives throughout Oklahoma. It promotes collaboration between state agencies and faith-based, community organizations to provide social services. To accomplish its mission, the OFBCI relays accurate church/state information to the government and faith sector about opportunities to work together and the guidelines for doing so.

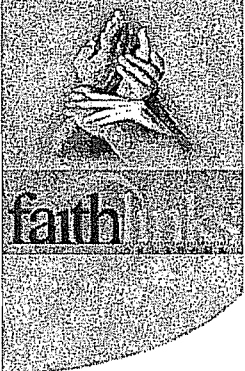

A successful collaboration does not necessarily involve government funding and faith-based groups are encouraged to conduct a thorough investigation of potential resources, financial and otherwise.

Operations and Staff

In pursuit of its mission, the OFBCI is continuously engaged in various projects. Its operations are facilitated through the Oklahoma Department of Human Services.

In March 2007, Robin Jones became the OFBCI Director. Deborah Price has served as the Projects Manager since 2002 and as interim director during 2006 and 2007. The office was created in 2000 with Brad Yarbrough appointed as its initial Director. Mr. Yarbrough helped to establish OFBCI's mission and provided leadership until April 2006.
